the std 2.5 is 167, but fit 3.0 cams and a few other tweeks and 190 is easy. Its the torque that is the killer tho, 240ftlb in the 2.5, use the 3.2 bottom end and it jumps to 230bhp, and 290ftlb. its in on the F23, from an astra g diesel, and corsa 1.7 sri subframe and shafts and 5 studs. the lump i used is about 189 iirc, but its got a c20xe flat flywheel, and helix clutch, so its very revvy.

I'm not a complete stranger to conversions as i put a XE into my old corsa B about 10 years ago Now I'm looking at doing a C with Z20LET, i did consider returning to a B but for age and sapres and stuff i've decided C would be a better option. I've been in conversation with a few people on CS and Migweb about corsas and engines.
